LOTERIA Nacional del Paraguay Autorizada por el H. Congreso de la Nacion POR LEY DE 25 DE MAYO DE 1896.
Esta loteria hara su sorteo publicamente en la capital de aquella Republica, en globos de cristal y bajo la inspeccion e intervencion de delegados especiales del Gobierno, y un secretario, y este acto final, dado por el H. Congreso del Paraguay, basta que sea la expresion genuina de la honradez, y garantia de los sorteos, que es lo que necesita el comprador de billetes.
Despues de la Loteria Nacional de la Republica Argentina, esta es la que mas garantias ofrece al publico, pues da, aparte de lo expuesto, da tambien el 75% en premio.
La empresa de Agentes de la Capital, reconocida como bona, por su honradez en los pagos de los billetes de sus loterias, se ha comprometido a todo premio de la Loteria Nacional del Paraguay que hubiese vendido en la Republica Argentina.
Esta empresa cuenta con un deposito a sus efectos, de 200,000 $ en depositados en el Banco Espanol y Rio de la Plata en Buenos Aires.
Se juega el dia 11 de Junio

Constantinople, 9th.—In diplomatic circles it is said that the negotiations for peace are going on well. It is expected that Turkey will consent to reduce her claims to a slight rectification of the frontier line, including the cession of the town of Trikkala.

Rome, 9th.—The Deputies began the debate on the Budget to day, and it is expected that some of the clauses will give rise to very warm discussion.

St. Petersburg, 9th.—Here and in other large cities of the Empire subscriptions are being raised for the Greek sufferers by the war with Turkey. The Imperial Government has authorized them, and many high civil and military functionaries have given large sums, and the ladies of the aristocracy are organizing bazaars and raffles for the charitable cause.

Paris, 9th.—The yearly meeting of the Suez Canal Company was held here today, Prince Auguste de Arenberg in the chair. The report and balance sheet were approved. A motion was made to erect a monument to the founder of the Canal, Count Lesseps, and it was voted by a large majority, 150,000 francs to be spent on it. It will be erected at Port Said, at the entrance to the Canal.

New York, 9th.—The Cuban Committee, here, deny the rumour of Maximino Gomez's defeat. They say that the patriots are better organized than ever, and that the rainy season will prevent Weyler's troops from moving for some months to come.

Lisbon, 9th.—It is announced that things are improving in all the Portuguese colonies in South Africa, and that the rebel native chiefs still up in arms are gradually submitting.

London, 9th.—The papers here say that the Cretan question will be settled shortly. The Christiana want Prince Battenberg as Governor, and it is thought that Turkey will assent.

Cairo, 9th.—General Kitchener reports that the Dervishes defeated last week at Salamat are reconcentrating near Berber and appear to be making preparations to deal a decisive blow. Every precaution has been taken to avoid a surprise by the Dervishes.

Vienna, 9th.—Excitement amongst Socialists in Galicia is increasing. Troops have been sent to strengthen the garrisons of Lemberg and Cracow, where rumors are assuming most alarming proportions.

(To the Daily)

London, 9th.—The persistent rumour that the Argentine Republic will contract a new loan is gaining ground. I have spoken to the leading bankers here who are in touch with the Argentine Republic, and they told me that they have not received any information about it, still they believe the rumour.

London, 9th.—The firm of James Nelson & Co. of this market has purchased a consignment of Argentine frozen meat at the following prices: Shoulders of beef at 3 pence per pound, mutton 3 pence and 4 pence per pound.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

(Received after mid-night)

Athens, 9th.—M. Melas, the former Mayor of the Capital, has published a letter in the papers denying categorically the statement recently made that he is the president of the Secret Society called "Ethniko Hetairia," which principally stirred up the nation to provoke war.

London, 9th.—The International Congress of miners, assembled here, has voted by a large majority the motion declaring that proprietors of mines should be compelled to maintain these miners who may have been incapacitated from work in consequence of injuries received when at work; and that money should be given to the families of all who are killed under the same circumstances.

London, 9th.—Telegrams from Pretoria announce that the plague of Rinderpest is rapidly diminishing throughout the Transvaal; but that it has invaded the Orange Free State with such virulence that the destruction thereof of cattle bids fair to exceed anything yet witnessed in South Africa.

POOR PARAGUAY!

There is a veritable "debacle" amongst our neighbours just at this moment. Revolution has seized upon the Banda Oriental, ruining trade and industry, paralysing the productive forces of the country, and driving young men across the river to seek shelter and work with us. Chile is struggling in the coils of the hydra Distrust, and a crisis has already overtaken its commerce and finances. We are told that in the first quarter of this year the revenue has fallen off no less than five million dollars, and there is no knowing how much it will fall off during the year. Brazil is calm on the surface, but troubled beneath.
Fanatics upset her army, and it is all the Government can do to keep the agglomeration of states from falling away.

Bolivia is in its usual comatose condition.
And now poor little Paraguay joins the concert of woe, with a financial groan that re-echoes along the banks of the Para-na and vibrates at present in the financial ambient, troubling perhaps the conscience of not a few, for much has been done by Argentines to hurt Paraguay.

General Mitre, who fought battles like a poet and wrote poetry like a soldier—to quote a happy though forgotten epigram—did some harm to Paraguay and to his own reputation in the famous campaign against Lopez. Our little neighbour, vanquished by superiority of numbers and armament, lost almost all its able-bodied men, and a splendid nation was beggared and well nigh butchered in defending the ambition of one man and resisting that of another. More than a generation has passed since that disastrous campaign was brought to a close by the fall of Lopez, and yet Paraguay has not recovered, nor will it recover for generations from its terrible prostration, for not only does it lack enterprise and capital and labor, but it wants blood. The war, by destroying the greater part of the male population, brought about such a disproportion between the sexes as endangered the vitality of the nation, and rendered polygamy almost necessary for the prevention of extinction.

Argentines might have done a good deal to make amends for this terrible consequence of the Lopez war, but nothing was done, and this remnant of a nation was left to fight for its existence as best it could. A delightful climate, a fertile soil, an easy production and the abundant of fruit rendered the struggle less difficult than one would have supposed, but these very advantages only served to increase the incidence of the race, and therefore retard the much desired development of the nation. Years after, Argentines turned their attention to Paraguay, not so much for the good of the inhabitants as for their own benefit. An incipient land speculation communicated a galvanic shock to the prostrate people, and soon the country presented all the symptoms of money-making fever. The speculation attained such dimensions that Paraguay was too small to meet the requirements of land-grabbers, and the result was that the Republic was sold several times over. The result of results was a frightful collapse, and the people were thrown back into almost a worse condition than that in which the war had left them. Poor Paraguay has little reason to be thankful to Argentines, but the day will come when this country will save Paraguay, either by absorbing it or by developing its resources, which are many.

Everything grows in Paraguay, except Australian socialism—but this is a sore topic. The soil is fertile itself, but the geographical position of Paraguay is a terrible disadvantage, at least from a commercial standpoint, Capital and labor land on our shores, never thinking of ascending the Parana. Cremona was too near Mantua to allow the latter to develop, as the bard plaintively tells us in his incomparable hexameter, and Buenos Aires, we fear, is too near Asuncion, which for many a day to come must live on our leavings.

But this is not the end of the harm Argentines have done Paraguay. The luxury of B. Ayres has inflicted a severe blow upon Paraguayan industry. Formerly the aristocrats of this city as well as the "oi polloi" were content to drink or sip mate, which came chiefly from Paraguay, but now not even the plebs fancy the Paraguayan beverage. The "haut ton" proclaim their aristocratic tastes by favoring tea and coffee, and champagne, and even brandy-cocktails, at all hours of the day and night; and as for the masses, they have a democratic longing for gin and spurious spirits, and thus the simplicity and the Paraguayan trade of former days have been almost eliminated by rastaquerism and alcoholism, and other modernisms. Thus we owe Paraguay some reparation.

Our little neighbour is at present staggering under the weight of a deficit of $500,000, but, we fear, there must be other deficiencies, for the Minister of Finance proposes to issue $2,515,000, thus making up the total emission of $10,000, 000 authorized by law, in order to meet certain obligations. The whole thing is a mere bagatelle, viewed from an Argentine standpoint, but the crisis in Paraguay is reported as being very severe, which shows that what is insignificant for Argentine bigness is enormous for Paraguayan little-ness.

THE QUEEN'S REIGN.

(By M. G. MULHALL.)

XIV.—INSTRUCTION, PRESS, POST-OFFICE.

There are three measures of the intellectual advancement or activity of a nation —schools, newspapers, and post-office, all of which have made extraordinary progress during the reign.

So beneficial has been the system of primary education, as far as the instruction of the masses is concerned, that the percentage of adults able to write their name, according to the marriage registry books, has risen as follows:

Ratio to 100

1836 1870 1884

England..... 57 77 95

Scotland..... 78 85 97

Ireland..... 48 64 88

U. Kingdom..... 59 76 93

At the Queen's accession there were 44 per cent. of the people of the United Kingdom unable to sign the marriage register, and that class of ignorant persons is now reduced to 7 per cent. If the intellectual strength of a nation be taken, prima facie, as the number of persons who can write, we shall see that Scotland and England have made great progress, while the number has actually diminished in Ireland.

Able to Write

1836 1870 1884

England..... 5,985,000 19,870,000 13,975,000

Scotland..... 1,365,000 2,735,000 1,450,000

Ireland..... 2,694,000 2,675,000

U. Kingdom..... 10,040,000 25,420,000 15,880,000

In 1836 Ireland counted twice as many persons who could write their name as Scotland; at present the number in the latter country exceeds that in Ireland. At the beginning of the reign Ireland represented more than one-fourth of the intellectual force of the United Kingdom, whereas she has now fallen to one-tenth.

In this fact we see the disastrous result of emigration with regard to Ireland. On the other hand, we see that the intellectual force of England has trebled, of Scotland doubled, in the last sixty years.

The press has been quite as efficacious in promoting popular instruction as the schools, the circulation of newspapers being now nearly 60 times as great as at the beginning of the Victorian epoch. In 1841 there was no daily paper published in England outside London, and it was not until Mr. Gladstone abolished the paper-duties in 1861 that the penny newspaper gave to journalism a popularity and power never before known. The whole newspaper issue of the United Kingdom rose from 84 millions monthly in 1831 to 45 millions in 1864, and is now approximately 174 millions, or little short of 7 millions daily. Comparing the total issue in a year with population, we find that the ratio is now 53 papers per inhabitant, against two in 1831. The newspapers of the United Kingdom represent a gross income of 16 millions sterling, a sum sufficient to pay for the total maintenance of the British army.

Post-office business was in its infancy when the Queen ascended the throne, but Rowland Hill's introduction of penny postage in 1840 gave it an immense impulse. The number of letters (and postcards) delivered yearly has risen as follows:—

Year Millions Per Inhabitant

1839..... 82 2

1851..... 410 15

1855..... 1,521 42

1885..... 2,084 53

Measured by this gauge, the intellectual power of the United Kingdom is now five times as great as in the period immediately preceding the Crimean war. The business of the Post-office grows much faster than population, as may be seen by comparing the number of letters and of printed papers, books, &c., sent in 1835 and in 1885:—

there would be an end of it. The unpleasant aspect of the matter is firstly in the possibility that the Americans covet Cuba, and secondly that certain Powers—not England—who have just humiliated Greece out of hatred of demagoguery and fear of populist agrarianism in Europe, will look askance at the humbling of Spain, and the republicanism of Cuba. As regards this country, public opinion is strong and healthy on the subject. Lord Salisbury dare not in the face of it raise difficulties with the United States even to please the German Emperor and his kith in Britain. But we know the nature of our prime minister, his tendency to side with the strong, to seize an opportunity when safe, and his love of courts—not their finery, but the mediæval odour they exhale. We shall watch Lord Salisbury anxiously should this Hispano-American difficulty grow serious. It does not look well to see the newly elected President of the United States so early closeted with his Secretary for War. We could have hoped better things of him. The evils at his own door will not be remedied, they will be aggravated, by a strife for the possession of Cuba which if secured will be only another Southern State blacker than the Carolinas or Louisiana. However, it is not for us to cast the first stone. We have a Cuba in Johannesburg, and you will see for yourself by the reports of the S. A. Committee, how it has demoralized and blackened the cream of our society—our "nicest people". The much respected Duke of Abercorn owned to 8000 Chartered shares. Mr. Labouchere making a disturbance, the room was cleared. It was finally agreed that the chairman should ask the duke if within a certain period in 1895 he had bought or sold any shares? The Duke replied "he had not". If you ask—"Now, where did those 8000 shares come from?"—you are a vulgar fellow. In polite society no questions are asked. Our present be-duked and be-titled Government—Coalitionists, Unionists, Tories, Turks or whatever they call themselves, will not answer your questions if you put any. I was speaking of Spain and the States May I venture the reminder to my fellow political coreligionists in America that from the way in which the world is waging we are all of us within twenty-four hours of absolute Government. It may be a natural evolutionary stage in our social advancement. It represents geologically the making of "heaps" which in due time wind and weather will disintegrate.

SPAIN AND AMERICA.

THE COMMERCIAL CONGRESS.
YESTERDAY'S NEWS.

El Comercio, of Havana, thinks the jingoes all over the world, bad people. The King of Greece, naturally inclined toward peace, the same as Presidents Cleveland and McKinley, gave in to them, and with what result? Should President McKinley not hold out against popular opinion—which is every day getting more aggressive and warlike—will not the American Eagle and the Spanish Lion become engaged in a horrible fight, in which the Lion will have the moral support of all the European powers, the same as Turkey? El Comercio closes its article by stating that the defeat and humiliation suffered by Greece should serve as a lesson to the American jingoes, and that Sr. Canovas del Castillo has not lost one moment in preparing for the probable conflict.

The United Press correspondent in Havana telegraphs that he is assured that there are no less than 8,000 revolutionists, well armed and equipped, and with plenty of ammunition, in the Central and Western provinces of Cuba. This force is divided into many small parties. There are also, thousands of Cubans in the revolutionary camps, mostly without arms of any kind or armed only with "machetes". In the towns named by General Weyler for the reception of the country people who do not want to be classed as revolutionists, are few men, but many women and children. The continued depreciation of the paper money is producing a bad feeling in the army.

From Washington, there is a telegram stating that Consul General Lee, in his report on the death of Dr. Ruiz in Cuba, states that he met his death while in prison, where he was detained "incommunicado" for 315 hours, while the treaty between Spain and the States especially provides that a citizen of the United States must not be detained more than 72 hours without being brought before some competent authorities for examination, etc.

The direct cause of his death was a blow received on the head, causing an effusion of blood on the brain. As to how he received this blow is unknown, one story being that he struck his head on the door of the cell in which he was confined, and the other, that he was struck on the head by a warder. The Madrid Press complains of the vagueness of this part of the report.

The New York Herald correspondent in Washington says that President McKinley will demand ample satisfaction from Spain, for the death of Dr. Ruiz, and that the Senate and House are agreed that there should be no delay in presenting the claim and obtaining complete satisfaction.

It is said that President McKinley has offered Mr. Jacob D. Cox of Ohio the Spanish mission. Mr. Cox is a profound Lawyer and stands very high as a man of affairs.

The St. James Gazette thinks that the trouble existing between Japan and Hawaii will, if it becomes serious, involve the United States. Japan is well prepared for a war, even with a white race, after having defeated the Chinese, and has it in her power to force a war on the Americans before they suspect it. (Would the $5,000,000 gold, worth of warships building for Japan in the States be confiscated by the Government in case of war?)

The South American Delegates to the Commercial Congress, reached Washington on Tuesday and were engaged in seeing the sights of the capital until night, when they left for New York. A programme altogether too long for these columns, has been arranged for their entertainment during their four days visit to New York City. They will certainly be impressed with the great number of "Bolsas" located there, and the handsome large buildings occupied by them. There is the Stock Exchange (stocks, bonds, etc.), the Produce Exchange, the Cotton Exchange, the Coffee Exchange, the Maritime Exchange, the new Wool Exchange and a number of others. In fact, there are so many that yesterday was almost entirely given up to visiting "Exchanges." The recent short visit to Washington is to be followed by a longer one later on.

The Republican Senators have held a private meeting to consider the sugar schedule of the Dingley Bill. They have fixed on a duty of 1 cent per pound for all sugars not above number 17 Dutch standard in colour, and not testing above 72 degrees with the polariscope. For every degree or fraction above 72 degrees an additional duty of 3/100 of a cent a pound. The sugars of any country paying directly or indirectly a bounty on sugar exported, are to be subject to an extra duty equaling the bounty paid.

TRISTEZA.

To the Editor of the STANDARD:—

Dear Sir,—
I must again ask you to kindly allow me a little space in your paper in order to answer what I fondly hoped I should have been spared, a scientific jumping on. With wonderful foresight a friend of mine who read my last letter said to me, "I don't think Estancieros will bother themselves about it, but Pennington will," and Pennington has. But Mr. Pennington has criticised my letter as though he imagined that I had been arguing theoretically. Mr. Pennington is under a mistake, for I did not argue. I asserted what I stated, and at the same time asked a few questions. Mr. Pennington begins his attack on my letter by saying that the recognition of diseases such as carbuncle and tristeza is peculiarly a question for a bacteriologist and not for a camp man. Great Scott! Such utterances as these lead one to believe that our capricious critic has got his information, "out of a book," for he has evidently never seen either of the diseases in question, since both of them have strongly marked peculiarities, and there is absolutely no point of resemblance in any of the symptoms. Again, we are told that a microscopist in his laboratory can unerringly say from an examination of the blood of an animal, whether it has died from tristeza or "grano malo"—thank the microscopist for nothing on that count, as there is hardly a native in the country but knows the unmistakable signs of "grano malo". The microscopist can tell the size and shape of the microbe that produced the death of the dead beast, but so far can he go and no farther: the most scientific men that have been employed during the last two years in Australia have not been able to find an antidote for tristeza; doubtless, this honor is reserved for Mr. A. Pennington. To continue with this interesting letter, Mr. A. S. P. goes on to inform us that For a wonder, the scientific men "agree with Mr. Bourne in considering these diseases distinct". This is really a wonderful piece of condescension on their part, and it would appear a kindly one on his, did he not come a terrible mucker before he gets to the end of his paragraph. He goes on to say that these same scientific men "have good and favorable reasons for doing so" (agreeing with Mr. Bourne) "and they would not describe it". (I presume he refers to grano malo) "as does Mr. Bourne, as a disease which attacks an animal on the shoulder, and leaves all the internal organs in a healthy state, the exact opposite being the case." Here Mr. Pennington comes down with a regular flop. I mentioned in my last letter that I had once been foolish enough to dissect an animal that had died of grano malo, and I found that the internal organs were in a perfectly healthy state, and that I assert as a fact; and if Mr. Pennington says it is not so, it is clear proof that he has never dissected an animal, that had died of this most horrible disease, himself. The reason why I opened that beast was because a peon of mine told me that there was nothing wrong to be seen on the "inside" of an animal that had died of "grano malo"; and I did not believe him, but when I opened that animal I found that he was right; he assured me that he had opened many and found them all the same. Will Mr. Pennington kindly inform us how many animals he has dissected that had died of "grano malo", or whether my surmise is correct that he has got his information "out of a book"?

Mr. Pennington's attack on my letter is most uncalled for. I clearly stated at the commencement that I could not argue with theorists. I gave a few facts that had come under my notice, and asked a few questions, but I hoped that they would be answered by practical men. I wished to get up an argument among camp men, which by giving several different experiences, might perhaps enable one or other of us to first find a reason for, and then a cure to, the cure of "tristeza." Mr. Pennington offers us no help and ridicules our endeavours, giving us a lecture on microbes and bacilli; with scientific names and ends up his letter by admitting his ignorance, for he says, for several reasons: "And therefore there can be no talk of vaccination as against tristeza." What then is the use of all the labours Mr. Pennington or others have spent on discovering a microbe which they can do nothing with? It would be better if Mr. Pennington would keep the discovery of microbes, etc., to himself until he can suggest an antidote, for at present he is no nearer curing tristeza after all his "years' practice in a bacteriological laboratory," than the veriest new chum just arrived in the country. But if he will accept it I will give him a hint that may or may not, as the case may be, help him in his discoveries, and so help us. It is this. When we had the tick plague in Santa Fé to which I referred, we got rid of the ticks in some instances by dissolving sulphur in quicklime with water, and putting it into the animals' drinking troughs. They all perforce had to drink the mixture or die of thirst. Well, the ticks by degrees tell off them, and tristeza disappeared. Might not the sulphur have had something to do also with the sudden stoppage of the tristeza? No one thought of that at the time, but now looking back I remember it perfectly. I believe the sulphur had everything to do with the sudden cessation of tristeza that occurred then, and if ever I am brought in contact with this disease again I shall most certainly give it a most handsome trial.

One more observation and I have done. Mr. Pennington says, "Let me point out two inconsistent statements in Mr. Bourne's letter. He says in one place, 'we tried the suggestion of burning the grass to destroy ticks, and found it utterly useless.' In another paragraph he says, 'Any very old, dirty camp, camp which has not been burnt for years... that is the place to breed both ticks and "tristeza." Now, if Mr. Pennington had taken the trouble to try to pick holes in it, he would have seen that there was no inconsistency in what I wrote. When I said that the dirty, musty grass was the place to breed them, I meant that it was the place where they originated. When I said that burning the camp did not destroy them, I meant that when they had multiplied to such an extent as to become the plague they did, we found as many on camp that had been just recently burnt as there were before the fire passed over it."

If Mr. Pennington wishes to reap the reward offered for a cure for "tristeza," I don't think he can do better than to try the sulphur, or get some one else to try it, say the owner of camp with an infected herd; if it will not cure, it will probably prevent infection, at any rate it is worth a trial. If he wishes to know why I don't try it myself, he must know that so far we are absolutely free from it here, and I have too many other fish to fry, to think of going about the country doing other people's business. And now, Mr. Editor, thanking you again for allowing me so much of your valuable space.

I remain
Yours truly
San Enrique,
Alberdi, F.C.P.

MORE JAPANESE BATTLESHIPS.

The telegrams state that Japan has ordered another first class battleship, to be constructed at the Thomson's Clydebank yard, but there seems to be some discrepancy as to the size and design of the vessel. One telegram says, she will be identical with the British "Jupiter"—another that she will be of a new and unique design worked out by her builders. The "Jupiter" is a 14,900 ton ship, and the new Japanese battleship described in the STANDARD of April 14th embodies improvements on her design and is a somewhat larger ship, so it would seem very probable that this more recently ordered battleship is to be a sister-ship. Still, as both telegrams give the size as 11,000 tons, the Thomsons may have worked out a new design of their own. This is the fourth battleship built or building in Great Britain for Japan during a very recent period, and it has been stated that two more ships for the line-of-battle are being built in Germany, but of this latter statement we have not seen any satisfactory confirmation. However with the two new British built battleships —practically of the Royal Sovereign class—now completed and in the hands of the Japanese, there is no questioning the fact that Japan will have by far the most formidable naval force in the extreme Eastern waters, as soon as her fleet is reinforced by their arrival there. Whether she will be able to maintain a stronger force in the Pacific than Russia for any length of time, is questionable. Russia's resources are almost unlimited, and she can build and is building new warships in much greater numbers than Japan. Russia must maintain a formidable fleet in European waters, and this to a certain extent operates in Japan's favour, although it gives Russia a powerful reserve to draw on in case of trouble with that power. Again, this advantage could be counterbalanced, by one of the European naval powers, friendly to Japan, assuming a threatening attitude towards Russia, but would they do so without strong provocation? Probably not. It may be safely assumed that Japan will have to strain her resources very greatly, if she persists in what is believed to be a well planned attempt to be the greatest naval power in the East.

SCOTCH CHURCH BAZAAR.

The hall adjoining the Scotch Church presented a most animated appearance last night, when this bazaar was formally inaugurated. The Hon. W. A. C. Barrington in his speech called special attention to the untiring efforts of the Rev. J. W. Fleming in carrying out the movement and also spoke most highly of the many ladies, who, by their hard and unselfish work, had contributed so much to the success of the undertaking.

Mention has already been made of the various stalls, and last night the general appearance of the hall was most effective. Very shortly after the opening of the bazaar, the hall became uncomfortably full, and the pressure round the stalls was very great. Selling and raffling went on with fair briskness, and the many ladies who assisted had their work cut out to attend to the calls made upon them. The stalls are stocked with articles of a distinctly useful character, and the prices at which they are marked are very low.

The bazaar will be opened to-day from 2 p.m. until 5.30 p.m. and from 8 p.m. until 14 p.m., admission 50 cents.

At 10 p.m. should the stalls not be cleared, Mr. Mackinlay, the well known auctioneer, will mount the rostrum and sell off everything that remains, as the committee have resolved that nothing shall be left unsold.

IMMIGRATION RETURNS FOR MAY.

The Immigration returns for the month of May ult., show that the total number of arrivals in the Republic was 8647, including those via Montevideo. Out of these 2937 are Italians, and the rest belong to other European nationalities. The number of agricultural hands was 318, whilst 271 have no fixed profession. Three hundred and sixty-six of the immigrants have found employment in the Province of Buenos Aires, 294 in Santa Fe, 177 in Mendoza, 115 in Cordoba, 94 in Tucuman, 23 in this city, and the rest are in the remaining provinces, making a total of 1221 who immediately found work, on arrival. Mr. Alsina's important report does not state how last month's arrivals compared with those of previous months.

RAILWAY AND OTHER ITEMS.

The Central Railway has acceded to the request of the National Railway Board asking the Company to allow the passengers going to Catamarca to remain in the sleeping coaches until 9 a.m. on the day they arrive, instead of leaving them on the too early arrival of the train at Catamarca.

The Executive has extended the decree calling for tenders for supplying the National Railways with rolling stock, until the 25th inst.

At the request of the representative of the representative of the "Gloucester Railway Carriage and Wagon Company, Limited," the Minister of the Interior has extended to the 25th inst., the time for presenting tenders to supply rolling stock for the Andine and Central North Railways.

LA PLATA.

(From our own Correspondent)

The Deputies sat to-day, and sanctioned finally the extension of 60 days time for payment of Contribution Directa and Patente fines, of years in arrears. Also the Bills declaring that "escribanos" are eligible as Municipal Councillors, and granting $20,000 to the "Tiro Federal" of La Plata, to erect a new Polygon.

The Locust Extinction Central Commission has sent circulars to all the local Commissions, to be distributed amongst the farmers, indicating the precautionary measures to be taken against the pest.

1st.—That summer wheat should be thickly sown, to prevent the eggs being laid in it.

2d.—Cereals should be sown early, to allow the plants to take firm root by the time the locusts come; as late sown grain has no chance against the pest.

3d.—Land intended for maize should have spaces left for the locusts to lay their eggs. If the invasion be expected in the first fortnight of September, the sowing should be postponed until after the eggs are laid.

CONGRESS.

DEPUTES.

Since, as is universally known, the Argentine Republic has now realized the dream of Sir Thomas More and become, though not an island, the Utopia of South America, it is unnecessary to mention that yesterday no measure of reform was laid on the table of the house.

The business of the day was consequently confined to the debate on that last vestige of discord—the San Luis Intervention.

For two long hours did Deputy Guastavino inveigh against the Government's proposals and when the House rose at half past five the Honorable gentleman had only just finished his diatribe.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

There seemed to be a little more stinging in things in general yesterday, though nobody could exactly say where it lay. Perhaps it was the pleasant anticipations of a new loan from Modern Babylon; perhaps it was the glowing expectations as to the success of the Scotch Bazaar at night, which were hardly realized; perhaps it was the probability of Turk and Greek setting to again, or perhaps it was the renewed vitality of the White Rose cause in distracted B. O. However, all town seemed in good spirits. It looked as if the crafty Sultan meant to spit on the beards of the Infidel Powers and keep Thessaly. He was said to be preparing for a rush on Athens the moment the peace negotiations were broken off, as they seemed too likely to be. The victorious Edem Pasha made no secret of his intention to dictate peace in the King's palace at Athens, and all the Foreign Offices in Europe were in a shake, as the first Power that tried by force to stop the Turks, would set fire to the Eastern Question infernal machine, and the blow-up would have shaken Creation as much as if Uncle Sam were giving it his long-threatened licking. Happily these fears are being lulled to rest as the telegrams last night report the negotiations as progressing favourably.

The rumour from B.O. yesterday evening was that the White Rosers had entered the department of Paysandu, where they received a supply of 1000 rifles, a million cartridges, a good supply of horses and many fresh recruits. All day yesterday skirmishing was going on between the Government troops in Salto and the advanced guard of the patriots. All the same it is said that Lamas does not intend to attack the city; but only to besiege it while he is receiving armaments from across the river. As the gunboat Uruguay accompanied by two torpedo-boats left the roads last night to watch the Argentine bank of the Uruguay, it is possible that his recent daring move may prove fruitless. With regard to the alleged violation of Argentine territory it should be mentioned that the Oriental Minister here, Dr. Frias, yesterday took the initiative and visited Dr. Alcorta, whom he promised that the strictest inquiry should be made into the report and that, should it prove well-founded, prompt punishment should be meted out to the offenders.

On the 9th of July the Argentine cruiser "25 de Mayo" will enter the North Darsena, the first war-vessel to do so. It would be far wiser to keep war-vessels of all nationalities out of commercial docks. In Europe their presence there would be considered monstrous, dangerous, and ridiculous.

A constant reader suggests to us to try and hunt up any Britons in this republic who were present at the Queen's coronation in 1897, in order that they may be specially invited to attend the Diamond Jubilee racket on the 22d. A capital idea, and we hereby, on behalf of the Jubilee Committee, call on all such Britishers (if any) to send in their names.

Gold-lettered circulars were sent round yesterday, calling on all who wish for tickets for the Grand Jubilee Ball to be given in Prince George's Hall on the 30th inst. to send in their names to Mr. Chevallier Boutell, Secretary of the Committee 645 Avenida de Mayo. Price of ticket $20.

Dr. Sanarelli's lecture to-night in Montevideo on his discovery of the yellow fever microbe has produced intense interest in the Medical profession on both sides of the Plata. It will be quite an event, and, if the serum be discovered, Dr. S. will go down to posterity as a benefactor of humanity on as great a scale as Jenner.

Dozens of doctors, including the Lord Mayor of Rio, Dr. Werneck, left last night for Montevideo, to hear the lecture.

At Nr. 137, calle Durazno, in Montevideo, lives a family who suffer from the curious deformity of being fingerless. This peculiarity does not appear to be one of those freaks of nature which may appear in one individual, and not be transmitted to the next generation. From what can be learned the singularity has existed in this family so far as history or tradition extends, and there seems at present no signs of its dying out, as the grandchildren are as devoid of fingers as their grandfathers.

We learn through our Punta Arenas contemporary the Magallanes that our North American cousin on board the schooner Joe. S. Louvat have not been very successful in their search for yellow dross, as yet; but intend to keep pegging away till the find some.

Ye gods! Spanish patriotism sticks at nothing. A Government organ in Havana warns Uncle Sam that if he provokes a war with Spain, the United States will meet the same fate as Greece at the hands of Turkey!!! Considering the exploits of Weyler and his 150,000 men against a handful of half-armed patriots, this extremely "tall talk" is very funny indeed.

Our powerful colleague La Prensa is now working to have the number of Lottery Drawings reduced, as they have become a downright plague and public scandal. Last drawing there were $20,000 worth of tickets left unsold, which shows that even our gambling-mad public is surfeited The Lottery wants a thorough reform from top to bottom. The system is antiquated. There should be more small prizes, of larger amounts, and fewer "grandes", of smaller ones. The public, as shown by the letter from Cordoba which we published yesterday, are, evidently, by no means convinced that the drawings of the National Lottery are perfectly fair. Nasty rumours to this effect have been current now for a long time. At the same time the best reform of all would be to cut the whole insidious business.

Old John Bull has again beaten Monsieur in a field which the latter has always considered as his own. This is what a London paper says about it:—"The centre of culinary gravity has indeed changed. In the 'Days of the Dandies,' that is to say, about the commencement of the Queen's reign, it was no uncommon thing for a party of young bloods to make half-a-dozen trips a year to Paris for the express purpose of eating a good dinner, English cookery being then an almost unknown quantity. To-day the process is entirely reversed, and now we see Parisian gourmets undertake the voyage from the Boulevards to London from Saturday to Monday—including the terrible risk of mal-de-mer—for the express purpose of eating a dinner in the English capital, such as they fail to find on the banks of the Seine. A number of them have banded themselves into a kind of informal club, and intend to make periodic journeys here—once a month is the present arrangement—in order to dine well. The first visit was made some time ago, the second took place on Saturday and Sunday, and the party of eight left London yesterday highly satisfied with their trip. They do not confine their attentions to one hotel or to one restaurant, but hold themselves free to go where they find themselves best served. But on their two visits they frequented the same establishment. The fact is, that since most of the famous restaurants in Paris have been converted into beer-halls, all the best French cooks have come to London. By their Gallic friends, who have not ventured on the experiment, the daring innovators have already been christened 'Rosbifaires.'"

The proposed railway from Neuquen to Santa Cruz appears to be taking shape pretty rapidly. Next week the Minister of the Interior will ask Congress for the shipplasters for the preliminary survey. It will be a splendid thing for the far South, and owners of land on the route will become millionaires between night and morning.

Oh! The State School teachers in this city have not received a cent of their pay since the month of March. Is this one of the collateral effects of the Full-Pay Budget? Meanwhile, our London friends are beginning to smell a rat in the shape of a new Argentine loan. All right gentlemen, smell away. As for Argentina, a loan by any other name—say "uso de credito"—would smell quite as sweet to the fair borrower.

Spplendid news! We shall soon be able to go from here to Valp araiso in three days! The Pacific Railway is about to run a once-a-week express that will do the trick. Can any one suggest an appropriate name for this express, such as the "Wild Irishman," "Flying Scotchman," "The banquet given by the municipality on Tuesday night in the Café de Paris to Dr. Werneck, Lord Mayor of Rio, was a magnificent affair. The menu, the music and the speeches were all good, and his lordship said it was the jolliest dinner he had ever attended in his life. He left last night for Montevideo. Adieu, your lordship!

We had a visit yesterday from our old and respected friend Mr. Oscar Pfeiffer, the talented composer and music teacher, and were delighted to see him looking as young as ever. He made us a present of his last two compositions, "The Turkish March" of Beethoven, and "Reminiscences of the Opera," the last dedicated to Miss Delfina Cabreria, and the first to Mr. Calixto Oyuela. We feel sure that our musical readers will like both.

The Holy Father has set his heart on a great change in the Church, viz altering the date of Easter. The following paragraph will interest all our Christian readers of all denominations:—"Many people who have felt the inconvenience of the great variation between the dates on which Easter falls in different years may not be aware that for some time past efforts have been at work to limit the range of its movability. Professor Foerster, the director of the Berlin University Observatory, and a number of other astronomers and dignitaries of the Roman Catholic Church, have been trying for years to bring about a reform. The movability of Easter had its origin in the second century of the Christian era, when the Church decided to fix Good Friday on the first Friday after the spring full moon, by which is meant the full moon which occurs next after March 21. Easter thus varies between March 22 and April 25. In an article recently contributed to the National Zeitung, Professor Foerster makes public the proposals which he and Signor Tontini have drawn up. They hold that in future Easter should be severed from all relationship with the full moon, because the original significance of that connection with the religious processions which wended their way by moonlight to the places where the festival was to be celebrated has no longer any ground, and they believe that the fixing of Easter Sunday on the third Sunday after the spring equinox would be received with general favour. They suggest that their proposal should be carried into effect in the year 1900. When engaged in considering the matter, Signor Denza acquainted the Pope with his views, and received from his Holiness the reply: Not only do I wish you to devote attention to such a question, but I command you to do so."

The gipsies in the United Kingdom intend to specially celebrate in their own fashion June 22. At night huge camp fires will be lighted, and certain Romany rites will be performed which bear relation to the emotion of intense joy. The women of the tribes will don their most gaudy clothes on the occasion, while there will be general repainting of the vans.

"So say we all of us. God Save the Queen." Our lively Parisian contemporary, Figaro, expresses a hope that Her Majesty may reign as long as the "Grand Monarque" of France, Louis the Fourteenth, who sat on the throne for 72 years. It is possible, Her Majesty may reach 90 years of age, she is so strong and takes such care of herself.

The state of affairs at the Retiro station and of the pavement at the foot of the hill, in fact all round the blessed place is something awful; and we implore the Companies concerned to hurry the completion of the station and the Municipality to mend the pavement before the rain comes down, otherwise there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth (natural and artificial) when Jupiter Pluvius appears on the scene.

Has any one of our numerous stamp-collecting readers an Argentine Republic one dollar postage stamp, orange colour, for sale? If so, we can get him a buyer.

Read this, girls. Do not marry a man you don't love, or at least respect.—"A coup de théâtre" of an unusual kind has just rewarded the efforts of a provincial couple who, in accordance with French tradition, had disposed of their daughter's hand without going through the formality of consulting that young person. She appeared to accept the situation with resignation until during the ceremony the smiling Mayor asked the familiar question, "Do you consent, mademoiselle, to take M. Etienne Blanc for your husband?" There was a moment of silence, and then the "fiancee" replied, "Well, M. le Maire, as this is the first time I have been asked, I will answer categorically, 'No.' The marriage naturally did not take place."

The first stone of the new Congress Hall will be laid on the 2d prox. Some patriotic people think that the date should be declared a general holiday. That wouldn't be enough for such a great event. Let us say a week's holidays.

A lawyer put out his shingle with his name: "A Swindler" and got few clients. A friend advised him to put his full name, as his first sign was not encouraging. He did so and got still fewer clients, for it read: "Adam Swindler."

Gold Premium

First Ring..... 195.80
 Second Ring..... 194.80

Beyond that the gold market hardened a trifle there was no change to-day in positions, which makes out things pretty much as they were, and gives colour to the belief that the present situation is settled. Apparently there is not the slightest prospect of a move up or down. When the price dropped to 292 it looked weak enough to delude the bears into believing that they were going to smash 290 easily, in a single spurt; on the other hand, when it stiffened to 298, the bulls were duped into a belief that the turn had at last come and the big upward sweep with it. Both sides have eaten the bitter fruit of self-deception. The market has turned heretofore, neither bull nor bear, and brokers and speculators have chucked it as a bad job. There always seems to be abundant gold for the requirements. The general features of the situation too have toned down to a healthier hue, as the agony list has ceased to grow and exchange has rallied appreciably whilst a more important factor still in the scale is the proclamation and acceptance of General Roca as the solution of the coming Presidential campaign. It might seem strange that this should have any direct bearing on the gold market, but it has, as everyone believes the election will herald an inroad of foreign capital such as has never been known before. With money so phenomenally cheap in England, that it might be almost said people do not know what to do with it, it requires no seer's foresight to anticipate the irresistible attraction this immense country must prove when capitalists have confidence of place being maintained and rights religiously respected. The Plate will be England's magnet, and every industry of importance will show it.

The gold business at the first hour fell short even of a million dollars, which for an aggregate is of the one-horse category. The price oscillated between 295.20 and 296, to close at 295.80, which does not bespeak any great alarm or uneasiness, yet brokers spoke of the market being firm under the weight of rumours of emission, which may be scouted as utterly baseless. For end of month there was no pass, and only 70 to 80 cents was paid for July. In stocks some Banco Constructor shares were done at 3 to 3.50, a re-appearance caused by the interest excited by the meeting of the shareholders called for tomorrow. Catalinas spurred up to 8.50 on the news of the amendment holders having accepted all the amendments to the reconstruction scheme made by the board. Spanish Banks were firm at 130, whilst a small batch of B. Aires Insurance Co's. shares changed hands at 40. Catalinas all round were neglected.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:

 The spurt in Catalinas to-day was caused by the news of the London creditors having signified their acceptance by cable of the amendments introduced into their proposal by the Board, so that the business may now be considered definitely closed. The amendments are briefly the reduction of the interest on Debenture and Preference shares to 4%, and capitalization of arrears of interest at same rate, this latter representing a release of £50,000 by the creditors. Thus the re-construction now reads:
 £500,000 Debentures 4%
 £500,000 Preference shares 4% non-accumulative.
 £750,000 ordinary shares £2 each.

The creditors also engage to sink in the concern a further sum of £300,000 to be applied to developing and increasing the business once the scheme has gone through. All that remains to be done now is to hold the extraordinary general meeting of shareholders to consider and settle the arrangement. We congratulate now get the concern into their own hands and will of course spare no effort to make it pay, whilst the shareholders cut off the
